

GOVERNMENT & POLITICS – B.S and INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS – B.S

Updated 10/28/25

GVPT Methods Courses

GVPT B.S and IR B.S students must complete 1 GVPT Methods Course (3 credits) at the 300/400 level. The GVPT course used to satisfy this requirement may not also fulfill other major requirements, such as courses of choice.

Many of these courses have prerequisites and other restrictions. It is the student's responsibility to proactively review course descriptions to confirm courses they register for are not duplicates of courses they have already completed.

GVPT Methods:

GVPT309C: Advances in the Study of Conflict

GVPT368Q: Advanced Field Research in African American Politics

GVPT373: Geographic Information Systems for Redistricting

GVPT390: Game Theory

GVPT392: Introduction to Geographic Information Systems for Social Science Research

GVPT393: Intermediate Geographic Information Systems for Social Science Research

GVPT399A: From Polls to Playoffs: The Science of Prediction

GVPT399F: Power, Politics, and Data: A Hands-On Introduction to Political Science Data Analysis with R

GVPT412H: Nonviolent Resistance in the International System

GVPT419P: Applied Policy Research

GVPT429A: Problems in Political Behavior; Quantitative Study of Exit Polling and Elections

GVPT429B: Problems in Political Behavior; Data Analysis for Political Behavior

GVPT429C: Problems in Political Behavior; Campaign Modeling and Data Analysis

GVPT429D: Theory and Practice of Decision Making

GVPT429F: Problems in Political Behavior; Rethinking Governance in the Digital Age

GVPT429J: Problems in Political Behavior; Digital Dictatorships

GVPT429K: Problems in Political Behavior; Researching Contentious Politics

GVPT429T: Problems in Political Behavior; Social Media Politics

GVPT429W: Problems in Political Behavior; Studying Civil War with Data

GVPT479I: Seminar in American Politics; U.S. Immigration and Displacement Policy

GVPT479J: Seminar in American Politics; The (Mis)information Age: Why We Believe What Isn't True

GVPT479L: Seminar in American Politics; Brown, White, or Something Else? The Political Complexity of U.S. Latinx Communities

GVPT479M: Political Science Survey Methods and Experience

GVPT479O: The Science (and Politics) of Public Opinion

GVPT601: Research Design for Political Analytics [APAN only]

GVPT628: Advanced Topics in Coding for Political Analysis [APAN only]

SURV630: Questionnaire Design [APAN only]